Lizzy Borden is an American heavy metal band formed in 1983. Lizzy Borden is also the name of the band's lead vocalist. Lizzy Borden specializes in the shock rock style originated by artists such as Alice Cooper and Kiss. The band is named after the notorious Lizzie Borden, a woman accused and acquitted of murder in the late 19th century. Though the band was considered a part of the Los Angeles "glam metal" scene in the mid-1980s, they were musically influenced by bands such as Black Sabbath, Iron Maiden, Kiss, Alice Cooper, and Judas Priest. Their lyrical themes are more representative of this style, especially on earlier recordings. The band was featured prominently in the rockumentary The Decline of Western Civilization Part II: The Metal Years.

On May 17, 2004, guitarist Alex Nelson was killed in a head-on car collision. Lizzy Borden disbanded soon after.

In 2008, the band announced various festival appearances, including the Sweden Rock Festival in Sweden, and the Bang Your Head Festival in Germany. In November 2008 Lizzy Borden toured the United States with Finnish Monster Rockers Lordi. They also performed a two week European headlining tour performing in nine Countries over two weeks. Lizzy Borden recently announced that they are the first-day headliner of the two-day Keep It True XII Festival, set to take place April 24-25, 2009 at Tauberfrankenhalle in Lauda-Königshofen Germany, as well as North American festivals at Rocklahoma and Rock Gone Wild. The video for "Under Your Skin" premiered on MTV's Headbangers ball in April 2009 and the previous video for "Tomorrow Never Comes" was nominated for video of the year 2008 on MTV's Headbangers Ball.

Damage Inc. tribute to EARLY Metallica was founded in 2002 by Aaron Pearson. Damage Inc. has performed all over the northwestern states including Hawaii and Dominican Republic. Line up is Aaron Pearson - Lead Vocals & Guitar, Stephen Goodwin - Bass, Larry Howe - Drums, and Geoff Thorpe - Lead Guitar.

Aftertayst- Hailing from Santa Rosa California's North Bay, Aftertayst is a classic metal act. Their tracks remind you of some of the legends of metal, including Exodus, Metallica, and Testament. The vocals are the definition of old school metal, from high screams to thunderous lows. The riffs are simple but keep your head banging until your neck cramps up. This is truly a metal band for fans of TRUE metal.
